North County Physician Merges Practice With Pacific Eye

(SAN LUIS OBISPO – December 21, 2009) - Pacific Eye continues to Focus On You and your comprehensive eye care. We are very pleased to announce that Christopher S. Hulburd, M.D. will be merging his practice with Pacific Eye effective January 1, 2010.

Dr. Hulburd will see patients in his current Paso Robles office as well as our San Luis Obispo location. Pacific Eye plans to open a new state of the art facility in Paso Robles by mid 2010 at which time all North County offices will be consolidated into the new location. Dr. Hulburd's standards for excellence in medical and surgical eye care will enhance our service to patients on the Central Coast.

"The addition of this respected physician will not only enhance our service to patients on the Central Coast, but will also improve access to the finest eye care available" said Pacific Eye Chief Executive Officer, Robert Thielscher. "We are very honored and excited to have him as a part of our team."

Dr. Hulburd, a graduate of Georgetown University School of Medicine, has been practicing on the Central Coast since 1993 with an emphasis in treating glaucoma, refractive and cataract, as well as general medical ophthalmology.

Pacific Eye, the Central Coast's premier ophthalmology practice, has the reputation for offering patients the latest in technological advances and the most highly trained medical staff. With this recent merger, eight of the area's top board certified ophthalmologists will work together to offer a level of comprehensive eye care that is unparalleled.

Pacific Eye offices are located in San Luis Obispo, Santa Maria, Pismo Beach, Templeton, Paso Robles and Morro Bay.

To schedule an appointment with Dr. Hulburd, or to learn more about Pacific Eye, call (805) 545-8100, or visit their website, www.paceyemd.com.
